Reflections

Gazing upon my senior ring,
Proudness and loyalty make my heart
sing;
In the future I shall wear it well,
Reminded of the story it seems to tell.

The story of scholarship and courtesy too,
As the goal in high school for me and you;
Service and integrity going hand in hand,
Echoing forever in the halls of Steerland.

Leaving you, high school, will be a hard thing;
But then again, I'll still have my ring.
